

Cullen and Dykman Discusses Diversity in the Workplace with New Jersey Business Magazine

October 4, 2016

Cullen and Dykman was recently featured in New Jersey Business Magazine discussing how the Firm actively promotes diversity, inclusion and growth opportunities in its workplace.

“We strive to hire the best people available for every position, regardless of race, religion, gender or sexual orientation. By being blind to everything except the candidates’ qualifications, the result is a diverse group of employees at both the attorney and non-attorney levels.”

The full article can be found at: http://njbmagazine.com/monthly_articles/diverse-new-jerseys-law-firms/

Practices

- Labor and Employment

Industries

- Financial Institutions

Attorneys

- Margaret M. Fahy
- Christopher H. Palmer