Cullen and Dykman LLP Grows Its Environmental Law Practice with the Promotion of Amie Kalac to Partner

January 1, 2024

Princeton, NJ – Cullen and Dykman LLP, a leading Northeast regional law firm, is proud to announce the elevation of Amie Kalac to partner, effective January 1, 2024.

Amie's appointment aligns seamlessly with the firm's strategic growth plan, reinforcing our commitment to meet the escalating demands within our environmental department. With 25 years of legal expertise, Amie consistently delivers top-tier service, specializing in environmental, land use, toxic tort, and products liability matters.

Her extensive environmental experience encompasses cases involving the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA), the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA), and the New Jersey Spill Compensation and Control Act (Spill Act), among others. Amie has provided valuable counsel to clients, guiding them through the complexities of federal and state environmental statutes, environmental and land use permitting, regulatory compliance, enforcement matters, real estate transactions, and professional negligence. Her proficiency extends to advising clients on environmental insurance coverage and representing them in toxic tort and products liability matters.

"We are thrilled to welcome Amie to our partnership at Cullen and Dykman. As we build on our growth and momentum heading into the new year, Amie's industry expertise and proven track record in the field of environmental law will help move our clients' business goals forward," said Christopher H. Palmer, Managing Partner of Cullen and Dykman. "We look forward to her continued success."

Amie added, "I have thoroughly enjoyed working side by side with experienced colleagues at the firm. I look forward to continuing to work with the firm's clients and expanding on the work we do."

About Cullen and Dykman's Environmental Department

The attorneys in our Environmental department counsel clients on environmental matters in a variety of contexts and across a broad range of industries. Our attorneys' deep knowledge and experience in this field allow us to offer effective and practical solutions to the challenging issues our clients face on a day-to-day basis. We regularly advise clients on issues involving environmental permitting, risk assessments, due diligence, liability allocation and operational compliance, and we represent clients in litigation, transactions and regulatory matters. Our reputation in environmental law is built on our knowledge of our clients' businesses and our ability to align our legal services with their business needs and objectives.
