

Cullen and Dykman Web Site Wins MarCom Award for Excellence in Marketing and Communications

November 9, 2011

Cullen and Dykman's newly designed web site was awarded a prestigious MarCom Award by the Association of Marketing and Communications Professionals. The award honors excellence in marketing and communications. The Firm worked closely with web design professionals at Firmseek to create a functional, informative, and attractive site for clients and visitors.

Practices

- Information Technology