

Elizabeth Usinger Appointed by the New York State Bar Association as Member of the Committee on Lawyer Assistance

June 1, 2021

Elizabeth Usinger, partner in the banking department, has been appointed by the New York State Bar Association to serve as a member of the Committee on Lawyer Assistance, effective June 1, 2021.

According to the New York State Bar Association's website, the Lawyer Assistance Committee (LAC) is charged with the duty, in collaboration with the New York Bar Association Lawyer Assistance Program (LAP), of assisting attorneys, judges and law students dealing with alcoholism or substance abuse and other addictive disorders. The LAC also assists those dealing with such issues as stress, depression, problem gambling, vicarious trauma, and other mental health issues where appropriate.

Elizabeth is an experienced civil litigator, focusing on heavy construction and bankruptcy litigation. She represents financial institutions, private lenders, utility contractors, and other individual and corporate clients in a wide variety of matters including breach of contract claims, business torts, fraudulent conveyances and equitable claims.
