
Thomas Wassel Discusses Non-Compete Clauses with HospitalRecruiting.com

Thomas B. Wassel, a Partner in the Firm's commercial litigation and labor and employment practice areas, was quoted in HospitalRecruiting.com discussing 7 things physicians should know about non-compete clauses. Mr. Wassel discusses how "reasonable" non-compete clauses are enforceable, and how what judges and states consider reasonable varies greatly. He also talks about how what constitutes a "protectable interest" for a medical employer differs from state to state.

The full article can be found at: <https://www.hospitalrecruiting.com/blog/3547/7-things-physicians-should-know-about-non-compete-clauses/>

Practices

- Commercial Litigation
- Civil Rights and Employment Litigation
- Health Care

Attorneys

- Thomas B. Wassel