

DEAN'S HOUR: INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY ISSUES RELATED TO FANWORKS

With the NCBA Women in the Law and Intellectual Property Law Committees

June 3, 2025 (Hybrid)

12:30 PM — 1:30 PM

Nassau County Bar Association
15th and West Streets
Mineola, NY 11501

1.0 CLE Credit in Professional Practice*

Program Description:

Did you ever watch a television show and really hate the ending? Think you could write your own? Is that even legal? This CLE will discuss the intellectual property issues of fandom, including fanfiction, fanart, and cosplay, as well as the potential implications of sharing and selling such work online and at conventions like Comic Con, and what that means for fans creating works based on their favorite characters.

Guest Speaker:

Ariel E. Ronneburger, Esq., Cullen and Dykman LLP

*This course is appropriate for experienced and newly admitted attorneys. Newly admitted attorneys should confirm that the format is permissible for the category of credit.
